Welcome

We are delighted you are thinking about coming to the University of Canterbury and living at College House. We would love you to benefit from our very special community and provide you with the support to build your own strong academic foundation and unique life skills.

College House is based on a long history and very special traditions. If you come here you will meet others who value the exciting communal atmosphere College House offers. You will also form national and international networks within College House and the university. Connections that will be of benefit to you throughout your life.

Your time at College House will not just be lived, it will be celebrated.

Richard Taylor, Principal

Your wellbeing is key

Your physical and mental wellbeing is hugely important to everyone at College House.

Superb food made from fresh ingredients and a spacious, warm and well-appointed room are only the start.

Student Leaders in each House organise regular social get togethers and are there to guide you through those first tricky days of Uni. Residential tutors are on duty at night and in the weekends so there is always someone to go to for help and support. Our Assistant Principal is dedicated to your pastoral care and there is a huge range of support available through the University.

Grow your mind and your experience base

Meet a wonderful group of like-minded peers. Experience formal dining, fireside chats, feast dinners and fabulous traditions.

Scaffold your success at University

Study in your bedroom or in the sizeable Study Centre set up for academic tutorials and collaborative work. Study silently in the quirky and extraordinary Library or take a place in our UC-linked computer suite.

Academic success is so much easier to attain with weekly tutorials on offer for most subjects. These are facilitated by past students who have already achieved academic excellence.

Live in iconic architecture with beautiful artwork

Your unique House of 15 rooms is, arguably, part of one of New Zealand's iconic architectural masterpieces.

You also live with one of the largest collections of contemporary New Zealand art in the southern hemisphere.

Be safe

College House is an enclosed and secure site. Swipe card door and gate access maintains your safety and security.

Life changing and lifelong

College House's culture and community of students is life changing. We know you will make lifelong friendships from your time in the House.

If you're accepted to College House, it will be because we can see you have inspiring personal qualities and even the potential to be a future influencer and leader.

We will treat you, not as a 'university student' needing somewhere to stay, but as a unique individual, someone destined to make a difference in the world.

Our job at College House is to set you on your path to become everything you aspire to be.
